Dear Madam:

I send you under another cover my First Book of Spanish Songs of Old Cal., which costs $1.50.

I don't know what you refer to as "O, Fair New Mexico." It certainly is nothing that I have published or have cognizance of. So I return you check for 65¢ which you seem to have intended to cover that song--if it is a song, or whatever it may be.

In dealing with "Our Neighbors of the Southwest," you will find important material next Fall in my book, "Mesa, Canon and Pueblo" to be issued in October by the Century Co., New York.

Very truly yours,
